

IPSL Program Communication Protocol

The on-site program director is a student's best advocate and on the ground problem solver since he or she is most familiar with how to get things done within the host community.

IPSL programs have several stakeholders and we do our best to keep everyone informed. We ask that students communicate with the on site program director & staff regarding issues or questions instead of reaching out to others who are not on location and cannot help. This eliminates confusion and miscommunication. The IPSL Student Support Liaison can advise students on how to best ask for assistance from the program staff.